SATURDAY, MARCH 30, 1867.

"Ecce Homo" - "Ecce Deus." A year ago the Christian world was startled by the appearance of a work, by an anonymous author, entitled "Ecce Homo," which attempted to treat the life of Christ in a new light, and, while refusing to receive the deductions of the early Fathers, struck out on a new line of argument in order to satisfy the author's own mind.

He labored, however, under a disadvantage. It was impossible to convey a full idea of a dual character by taking only a half view of it. So far as his line of thought and criticism goes, the author of "Ecce Homo" is the author of a complete work. So far as conveying a correct idea of the true nature of Christianity is concerned, he has failed.

dur of the superstructure renders it impossible to obtain a full view at any one point, and it is only after taking observations from its many aspects that a correct idea of the theocratic commonwealth can be secured.

The Bill for the Better Protection of Seamen.

We called attention some time ago in these columns to the manner in which sailors are treated when they arrive in this city—the outrages they suffer at the hands of rascally runners, rapacious boarding-house keepers, swindling landlords, agents, etc. We need not recapitulate the facts, as they are pretty well understood by intelligent people generally.

The provisions of the bill above alluded to are briefly as follows:—Making it illegal for any person, except a pilot or public officer, to board or attempt to board any vessel arriving in this port before she has been made fast to a wharf, except by the consent of the Master or person having charge thereof, or the written permission of the owners, agents, or consignees of such vessel; compelling all runners or sailors' boarding-houses or hotels to wear upon their hats the names of the persons and houses by whom they are employed; making it illegal for any boarding-house or hotel keeper to refuse to leave any vessel when ordered to do so by the Master or person having charge thereof; making it illegal for any person to keep, conduct, or carry on any boarding-house or hotel for sailors in the city of Philadelphia, unless previously licensed so to do by the proper authorities; establishing a Board of Commissioners for licensing sailors' boarding-houses or hotels in this city, said Board to be composed of five members, holding office for one year, and one to be elected by each of the following-named corporations or societies, to wit:—The Pennsylvania Seamen's Friend Society, the Ship-masters' Society, the Board of Trade, the Board of Underwriters, and one from the Wardens of the Port, and said Board to have the power of granting licenses to the keepers of sailors' boarding-houses and hotels, and to have a general supervision and control of the same.

The foregoing are the main features of the bill, which seems well calculated to meet the benevolent end for which it has been devised. It has received the endorsement of a good part of our most eminent merchants, shippers, insurance agents, and others interested in marine affairs, including such names as Arthur G. Coffin, Thomas C. Hand, Henry D. Sherrard, S. & W. Welch, Edmund A. Souder & Co., Cope Brothers, Peter Wright & Sons, Thomas Watson & Sons, William Cummings & Son, T. Rogers, Thomas G. Munroe, John Gallagher, and others. The objects aimed at by this bill are such as must commend themselves to the good judgment of all who are interested in our seamen. We trust the House of Representatives will immediately pass the bill. The members from this city should give the matter their personal attention.

Colored Population of Philadelphia.

COMING ON our first page to-day, will be found an article on the colored population of Philadelphia, which will be read with interest. It gives only the brighter side of the subject, and bright, indeed, it is; for there are enumerated the names of thirty-four colored persons whose combined wealth amounts to at least $1,358,000. Without doubt, a number of the more wealthy class have escaped our attention; but even if this list were a perfect one, it would show a degree of prosperity among our colored residents that is as gratifying to us as it is creditable to themselves. We likewise give some account of the seventeen churches of different denominations which are supported by the colored people of this city. These have accommodations for over 10,000 persons, and an actual membership of 5440, with about 1700 scholars in the Sunday Schools. The church edifices are valued at more than $225,000. There are nearly 2200 scholars in attendance upon the colored day schools in the city, a fact not less gratifying than those given above. Assuming the colored population of this city at 28,000, the general figures are complete, and comparisons with the white population, and with both classes in other large cities, can be made by the reader.

DR. WISHART.

WHAT IS DYSPEPSIA? DYSPEPSIA HAS THE FOLLOWING SYMPTOMS:

1st. A constant pain or uneasiness in the pit of the Stomach—Which is caused by a permanent contraction of the stomach upon the undigested food. It generally begins immediately or a short time after eating, is often very severe and obstinate.

2d. Flatulence and Acidity.—These symptoms arise from the indigestion of food, which ferments instead of digesting.

3d. Costiveness and Loss of Appetite.—These symptoms are the effects of the unnatural condition of food in the stomach, and the want of a pure bile and gastric juice. In many cases the appetite is painfully diminished by wind; the appetite is sometimes voracious.

4th. Gloom and Depression of Spirits.—This state arises from the enjoyment of life, and is caused by the imperfect condition of the bowels, imperfect digestion. In this stage of the disease many persons commit suicide. There is a constant foreboding of evil, and an indifference and positive inability to perform the offices of life.

5th. Diarrhoea.—After being at first costive, the sufferer is afflicted with diarrhoea, which is owing to a disordered condition of the bowels, produced by the undigested food, which is evacuated in the same condition as when eaten, and of course gives no strength to the system.

6th. Pains in all Parts of the System.—Arise from the action of impure blood upon the nerves. They are felt chiefly in the head, sides, and breast, and in the limbs. In many cases there is an uneasiness in the throat, with a sense of choking or suffocation; the mouth is often clammy, with a bad taste and a furrowed tongue.

7th. Consumptive Symptoms and Palpitation of the Heart.—Many persons pronounced as having the disease die, in fact, nothing but Dyspepsia, the lung and heart disease being only symptoms.

8th. Cough.—This is a very frequent symptom of Dyspepsia, and leads very often into consumption.

9th. Want of Sleep.—A very distressing symptom, resulting from mental derangements.

10th. Symptoms of External Relation.—The patient is affected painfully by cold and heat, which is owing to a disordered condition of the bowels, and the skin is often affected by eruptions and rashes. The gloomy dyspeptic avoids society as much as possible.

11th. Vomiting.—A frequent and distressing symptom. It relieves the pain, but emaciates and wears out the patient.

12th. Dimness of vision, headache, and staggering in walking.—These are very alarming symptoms, which are caused by the action of our medicines; but if neglected are quickly followed by numbness and sudden death.

13th. It is impossible for us to give all the symptoms of Dyspepsia in so small a space, but the above are considered sufficient, if we add that the patient loses his memory and regard to surrounding objects, and frequently becomes morose and sour in disposition. We should say, however, that pains in the joints and stiffness of the limbs, which go by the name of rheumatism and neuralgia, are produced by Dyspepsia. Also, a hardness of the muscles of the abdomen, which becomes contracted and hard; and in some cases the belly sinks, instead of being gently prominent.

N. B.—Perhaps we have not said enough of that strongest symptom of Dyspepsia, melancholy. We have examined hundreds of cases of Dyspepsia, who were so much affected in their minds that they constantly forbode loss of their reason, which unfitted them for business of any kind, and many of them have been patients of the Insane Asylum, who are now permanently cured by our medicine.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent yearly, and hundreds of thousands of the best men and women of America linger in pain and die, and fill a premature grave, with that awful disease, Dyspepsia. They try this physician and that physician, but alas! alas! no relief, no cure; and the next we hear of them they have gone "to that bourne from whence no traveler returns."

Out of the thousands of cases of Dyspepsia that have used Dr. Wishart's Great American Dyspepsia Pills and Pine Tree Tar Cordial, not one of them has failed of a perfect cure. We warrant a perfect cure in every case, no matter if it be twenty years' standing. Sold by all druggists everywhere, and at Dr. Wishart's Office, No. 10 N. Second street, Philadelphia, Pa. All examinations and consultations free of charge. Send for a circular. Price of Pills, One Dollar per box. Sent by mail, free of charge, on receipt of money.

DR. L. Q. C. WISHART'S PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL. A GREAT REMEDY FOR THE CURE OF THROAT AND LUNG DISEASES.

PINE TREE TAR CORDIAL. It is the vital principle of the Pine Tree obtained by a peculiar process in the distillation of the tar, by which its highest medical properties are retained.

It is the only safe and reliable remedy which has ever been prepared from the juice of the Pine Tree. It invigorates the digestive organs and restores the appetite. It strengthens the debilitated system. It purifies and enriches the blood, and expels from the system the corruption which scrofula breeds on the lungs.

It dissolves the mucus or phlegm which stops the air passages of the lungs. Its healing principle acts upon the irritated surface of the lungs and throat, penetrating to each diseased part, relieving pain and subduing inflammation. It is the result of years of study and experiment, and it is offered to the afflicted with the positive assurance of its power to cure, if the patient has not too long delayed a resort to the means of cure.

CAUTION. Whereas, Base and designing men, regardless of the lives of the sick, and with a view solely to their own pockets, are making and vending a spurious article by the name of Pine Tree Cordial, representing it as my Pine Tree Cordial, copying, in some cases, my labels and bottles, with slight variations, and thus inducing a protection to the public, to punish a fac-simile of his bottles as last patented by the United States Government; and hereby cautions all persons who value their health and life against purchasing any of the many preparations offered for sale as Tar Cordial, unless my name and a Pine Tree is blown on the bottle; all others being a wicked imposition to deceive the suffering and fleece them of their money, regardless of consequences. The genuine Pine Tree Tar Cordial is made by a process and of ingredients known only to myself, which secret has never been divulged; and any and all persons attempting to make any Pine Tree Tar Cordial are outwitted impostors. L. Q. C. WISHART, No. 10 North Second street, west side, Philadelphia. Sold by Druggists everywhere. [37] w3424p
